FRONT COVER: Bonnyrigg's JOE BRUNI battles against Blacktown on Saturday Night

ON THE ROAD To The Title

PRELIMINARY FINAL REVIEW

At the time of writing it was still to be decided who Bonnyrigg would be playing on Sunday at the Gabbie Stadium, as Super Soccer went to print before Tuesday nights game between the Parramatta Eagles and the Macarthur Rams.

Bonnyrigg are too good a side not to bounce back from Saturday night's hammering by Blacktown, but will face either a solid Macarthur side or a Parramatta Eagles team struggling to remember their last defeat.

Sticking its neck out, Super Soccer believes that the Eagles will have been too strong for the Rams, and will then sneak past the Minor Premiers in a shock upset on Sunday!

SUPER SOCCER TIP - Parramatta to meet Blacktown in the 1999 Super League Grand Final.

SEMI-FINAL REVIEW

The Super Soccer squad were at Melita Stadium!

BONNYRIGG WHITE EAGLES 2 BLACKTOWN CITY 5

Swelled by the numbers who quickly travelled from the quagmire that was the Serbian Centre, where the other semi-final was called off at the eleventh hour, the crowd at Melita Stadium on a pleasant Saturday evening saw what may well be a dress rehearsal for the 1999 Grand Final with Blacktown City adapting best to the heavy, but playable conditions to destroy Premiers Bonnyrigg White Eagles.

The Demons were soon into their stride and they were inspired by two special players on the day; Damien Brown, resourceful in defence and imaginative in attack and goalkeeper Fernando Greco, who rival coach John Turner suggested had never played better.

Greco saved countless point blank shots and his handling was of the highest order.

Brown, for his own part, could do no wrong with constant menacing runs and crosses from the right to which the fully stretched White Eagles defence had no answer.

Blacktown won the game 5-2 at the finish, having surged to a 3-0 lead within the first half hour and while Bonnyrigg enjoyed a much greater share of the play after the break, resulting in two early penalties being awarded and another appeal turned down, they were not allowed to capitalise on that period of superiority due to two more saves from Greco plus another from one of the rebounds.

The twin penalty takers, Robbie Gomez and Joe Bruni, had been taking the spot kicks at training to devastating effect, but in the pressure cooker of a Major Semi-Final they were found wanting, in no small part thanks to the Greco factor.

Blacktown and Brown signalled their early intentions in the 4th minute when the nippy midfielder cut in to the edge of the area after the first of his right flank runs of the day to produce a left footer which had Mladen Kos fully stretched to tip the ball onto the bar and back out to be cleared to safety.

With the crowd still humming Bonnyrigg's Joe Bruni, the man they secured on loan from Marconi when the competition's then leading scorer Colin Luff came to grief, showed his class to shake off Damien Foxe and Matthew Lowe, but was foiled by a superb tackle from Brown and the ball was hacked away for a corner.

The Demons recovered from this 10th minute scare to open the scoring three minutes later.

Stuart Cleary tried a lob from the edge of the area out on the left and when it deflected off a defender slightly Kos could only push the ball away and fittingly Brown was there to slam it into the net at the far post.

A minute later Bonnyrigg won a corner and Paul Dee latched onto the ball at an awkward angle forcing Greco into making his first important save of the evening, a classic at point blank range.

In the 18th Brown made another big run down the right and delivered a tantalising cross which the keeper left his line to retrieve, but failed to collect and Cleary was able to get in a telling header for Damien Smith to steer the ball over the line at close range.

Another superb piece of wing play by Brown in the 30th saw a cross to the near post where Cleary stuck out a foot and steered the ball to the far side where Jon Angelucci and Smith converged on it with the former given the credit for touching the ball over the line.

A swift break by the Demons in the 32nd saw Bonnyrigg defender Milan Crnokrak execute a superb tackle on Smith who was bearing down on the goal after a big run down the left by Steve Riches and a perfectly weighted pass along the flank.

Blacktown were running riot at this stage and when Angelucci put over an inch perfect cross from the right in the 36th Cleary at the far post just shaved the left post with his finishing effort.

Cleary also headed the ball onto the angle of the upright in the 41st from another deep Brown cross from the right, while Bonnyrigg tried a long range lob from skipper Paul Richardson that just cleared the bar and after a good passage of play and interchange of passes substitute David Harding had his 43rd minute strike taken nicely by Greco down low.

Just before the break Bonnyrigg twice went close, the first time when Richardson got away down the left and sent Bruni on to push the ball into the goalmouth, where the ball was scrambled away before Javier Mancino could pounce and the second when another Dee volley was well stopped by Greco at close range.

When the second half began it was soon apparent that Bonnyrigg would set about atoning for their lacklustre first half display and they took the game to the Demons in no uncertain terms.

Paul Dee dashed into the box to get on the end of a cross from the livewire Robbie Gomez and was challenged strongly and brought down, but the referee waved play on, despite the pleas of the Bonnyrigg players. This came within a minute of the restart.

Five minutes later the always nippy Gomez proved too much of a handful for Damien Foxe and Chris Bradley and he was sent sprawling.

This time Mr Breeze was in no doubt and pointed to the spot.Sadly for regular taker, and player fouled, the usually clinical Gomez, the low shot was easily saved by Greco and play went on with the White Eagles still three goals in arrears.

Bonnyrigg continued to take the game to Blacktown and were again awarded a penalty two minutes further into the game when an attempted clearance by Steve Riches struck Demons' defender Paul Yates on the arm and this time Bruni stepped up.

His first shot was saved by the diving Greco once more, with the follow up effort from the rebound also being saved by the heroic keeper. To save two penalties in a game is incredible enough, but the stop from the rebound had to be seen to be believed.

Blacktown took advantage of the newly created space at the back and a quickly taken free kick almost had them four up in the 61st.

Jon Angelucci received the pass down the right and looked set to score, but again found the side netting.

Greco was called into the action again in the 66th to save a powerful drive from Bonnyrigg skipper Paul Richardson.

With Joe Bruni livening up and causing plenty of problems for the Blacktown defence the price was paid in the 67th when that player advanced towards the box and looked set to go on past the last defender and strike successfully, but Foxe interrupted that run and was given his marching orders.

The resultant free kick was saved once more.

Blacktown relied thereafter on swift counter attacks to compensate for their shortage of personnel and in one such move, in the 72nd Cleary broke away and saw his strong shot tipped over by Mladen Kos.

In the 77th minute Bonnyrigg finally broke the ice.

Richardson played the ball on for Bruni who rifled the ball into the roof of the net following a corner on the left.

Blacktown made it 4-1 from a cross for the left when Cleary outjumpedKos who had come of his line to meet the cross, and nodded the ball to the far post where Holst was able to slide in and easily convert.

Kos was again busy in the 84th when he saved well from Smith after a fine passage of play by the Demons, but blotted his copy book four minutes later when he displayed some eccentric footwork that fooled even himself as he attempted to dispose of a back-pass. He missed the ball completely allowing the lurking Cleary to nip though and slide the ball into an empty net after a most bizarre and comical piece of by-play.

Holding a 5-1 lead Blacktown relaxed long enough for Bonnyrigg substitute David Harding to latch onto a loose ball on the edge of the area in the 90th minute and send a thundering drive through a crowded goalmouth and past an unsighted Greco.

It was a deserved goal for the Premiers who have now been beaten twice by Blacktown on foreign soil and must now play the winners of the Macarthur-Parramatta clash last Tuesday. And who is tipping against another Grand Final featuring Bonnyrigg and Blacktown? Not many we imagine (ed - I disagree! see preview) Blacktown coach Brian Brown was ecstatic with his team and "extremely pleased with the sides first half". He looked to Damien Brown on the right as the difference in the first half, saying "Damian was outstanding".

He was also quick to praise goalkeeper Fernando Greco for a 'fantastic' effort in saving two penalties and thwarting the Eagles forward line. "The guys were ready for this game after the hangover of losing the minor premiership" said Brown.

On Foxe's send off though he admitted, "Its extremely disappointing to be losing Foxe because there is not a bad bone in his body, but thats football".

Bonnyrigg coach John Turner was understandably subdued in the rooms but was adament the week off had affected his sides preperation leaving them a little complacent in the first half. "We were very naive and not courageous enough for finals football." Having not trained for eight days due to the wet weather Turner was full of praise for the endeavour of his opponents and happy that the side had continued to fight even after they went behind by three goals to nil. "Blacktown were committed in the front and back 20 yards and were weren't courageous enough" he commented.

1999 SEASON

NSW FIRST DIVISION REVIEW

ROUND TWENTY SUMMARY

BIG WASH-OUT LEAVES DOLPHINS' RIVALS SWEATING BUT BATHURST BOUNCE BACK IN THE DRY OUT WEST

Sydney was awash during the week but the Central West provided a fertile ground for the game between Bathurst 75 and Moorebank Sports with National League referee Con Diomis getting a chance to escape the rain and wind and sample some of the country hospitality.

After a very disappointing and frustrating time of it the previous week at home to Rockdale the locals were in a determined mood to see their bad and out-of-character run of losses brought to an end.

There would still be an outside chance of making the finals if they could find their old touch, especially in front of goal, where the previous week luck had deserted them.

With games in hand, two at home next weekend, things could yet turn around for the team from the central west. Moorebank had provided solid opposition the previous weekend when venturing to the foot of the mountains to play Penrith in front of more than 5,000 partisan Panthers' supporters, but this time around they were unable to match their opponents who dominated the game from start to finish.

Right from the first whistle Moorebank were on the back foot and they found very few openings during the game.

By contrast Bathurst must still be wondering what they must do to convert chances into goals and get that ball to cross their opponents' line on a more regular basis.

Scott Mutton continues to find himself marked out of most of his team's games, while evergreen Mark Rooke has also been well taken care of lately. These two senior players at the club have enjoyed much success in the past and both travelled to New Caledonia for the NSW representative team's tour, so must have impressed many again this season.

On the other hand the club's recruitment drive in England where advertisements were placed through numerous local and regional leagues and organisations seems to be paying off at last. Richard Wilcox came into the country only a few weeks ago, but is settling down nicely now and admits that life at Bathurst is quite different to his English club in the Isthmian League.

Bathurst created many first half chances once again on Saturday, but the in-form Moorebank keeper, Alex Sanchez, showed tremendous anticipation to snatch the ball from the heads and laces of the home team strikers on countless occasions in the first period.

Mutton was the main player to rue his entanglement with one of the goalkeeping discoveries of the season, albeit until Les Pogliacomi becomes available again at the Sydney club in the coming weeks.

Moorebank may have punished Bathurst when, in the 40th minute, they hit the post through Craig Stein.

Moorebank had rung the changes after their narrow loss the previous week, but it was still a surprise to see players such as Spiro Rompies and Joe Corrente languishing on the bench.

Stein had not played the previous week so must have added some much needed punch up front and with injuries continuing to plague Moorebank whose midweek win at Auburn took its toll on two key players coach Alf Barrios may have had few options left.

Bathurst were rocked by the audacious Moorbank raid that almost caught them napping and re-found their vigour.

Tony Clancy made a swift move down the right flank and his firm cross into the box found the waiting head of Mutton whose attempt on goal was tipped over by the agile Sanchez.

Moorebank's injury woes continued when hard working Phil Wurth hobbled off with a hamstring injury and had to be replaced by Mick Dransfield.

After the break Bathurst stepped up a gear with Wilcox beginning to make his presence felt and when in the 49th minute he got himself into a scoring position inside the box he converged on a cross only to graze the bar with his volley.

Alarm bells began to sound for Moorebank as Bathurst stepped up their attacking pressure.

Locals were dismayed when Diomis turned down their strong appeals for a penalty after an apparent handball inside the area, but not long after, in the 53rd minute, the Sydney referee awarded a free kick just outside the area which yielded the opening goal.

Mark Rooke found Mutton ready to pounce, but his strike was saved by Sanchez yet again, the ball falling to Wilcox whose shot was deflected past his own keeper by Marcus Pavlakis who was trying to clear desperately.

The three pronged Bathurst attack of Clancy, Rooke and Mutton gained confidence from this goal and set about extending the lead.

They made huge inroads into the Moorebank defence and from a short corner taken by Rooke, Mutton saw his eventual shot cleared off the line in the 63rd.

Mutton and Clancy then exchanged passes a few minutes later with Clancy driving the ball inches past the post.

Bathurst made their only sub of the game in the 70th minute when the injured Glen Wallace limped off and Ben McLean from the reserves was brought on for his first team debut.

Bathurst began to get right on top in the midfield in the latter stages and when Brad Gallard charged down a hotly contested ball and sent Mutton away with a great pass, the last defender was drawn out and the ball slipped to McLean whose cracking drive gave the keeper no chance in the 72nd minute.

Bathurst went to sleep again briefly a few minutes later which allowed Moorebank skipper, Peter Moon, to skip past his marker and then suffer the misfortune to see his shot rebound off the upright.

That was the last glimmer of hope for the Sydney side and Bathurst got back on top, Mutton again denied by the talented keeper, after a superb run down the wing and cross by Adam Collins.

Wilcox steered a corner onto Mutton's head, but a diving keeper saved again with the spilt ball being hacked to safety from the goal-line. The game closed as it had begun with Mutton making and missing chances with Sanchez fully wound up and doing his job most pleasingly.

Moorebank won't meet Bathurst in such a motivated mood again in a hurry and can still get out of trouble with a few better strikes on goal - and a few games clear of injury. Mike Necovski was absent on this occasion and his calming presence would have been sadly missed as well.

Bathurst now look forward to a continuation of this form next weekend.

ROUND TWENTY ONE PREVIEW

Bathurst are going to be busy after being the only club to stage a game last weekend when they tackle a double header on Saturday and Sunday and then travel to Fraser Park on Tuesday night to play Stanmore Hawks in another deferred game.

They begin their quest to move into a top half of the table position with a Saturday visit from Rockdale at 1 pm. The Rockdale side has a solid look about it these days and this will not be an easy one for the country boys.

Primed by this Rockdale return to Sydney to play at their Soccer Centre against Dulwich Hill who are anchored below Moorebank Sports and in dire need of three points.

Rockdale will be tired, not just from playing but from the travelling and this may be enough to tilt the scales in favour of the Hill men who have the talent, but seem to lack the ninety minute concentration required of them. Dulwich need the points the most and can manage an upset win here. They drew the first round game well enough, after all and can go on with the task this time.

Bathurst, by contrast, have another home game to look forward to when Penrith turn up at Alex Lamberton on the Sunday. The Panthers are still very much in the top five race and eager for the points, but even with a game already behind them Bathurst can get the maximum points here as Penrith have not been doing as well away from home this season as last.

There are two more Saturday games in Sydney, with St George at home to the enigmatic A C United, whom they should beat and Stanmore entertaining Manly at Arlington Oval.

Manly are conscious of the chasing brigade and will not want to see their diminishing advantage slipping further away from them. They won the first encounter easily enough, 8-1 in fact, but the Hawks are out to prove that form a nonsense and may get the win they need this time.

Manly's last visit to the ground was successful when they accounted for Dulwich Hill easily, but this is a different caper altogether.

Moorebank meets Hurstville City Minotaurs, one of the few sides they have already beaten this season, and this time they have the Hammondville Oval home advantage too. Somehow the Minotaurs look a more formidable outfit the second time around, but the locals may be able to save a point anyway.

Finally Auburn United meets Illawarra Lions at Mona Park with an Auburn win needed to climb above their opponents. The Auburn side has been much tighter lately and could thwart the lively Lions with Jim Mellisourgos leading their line, but these two sides often produce a goalscoring spree and if that's the case it could go either way.

Division two Review

ROUND NINETEEN SUMMARY

UNI OF NSW DEFY THE BIG WET, TO HOLD ON FOR A PRECIOUS POINT AT DAVID PHILLIPS FIELD

The better weather that arrived in Sydney on Saturday failed to prevent wholesale postponements everywhere and the Second Division was to prove no exception.

The only scheduled Saturday game, between Sydney District and Sydney University, had been switched from Camdenville Oval to Steele Park, but it made no odds as both grounds were under water by the end of the week.

Only one of the five Sunday games went ahead, all scheduled for 10 am and even that one had to be accommodated on an outside field.

After the unrelenting weather of late, it was a pleasure to see the sun shining and a relatively dry pitch at David Phillips, for the UNSW v Arncliffe clash.

The visitors were looking to cement a top four spot, whilst the home side are still struggling to stay in this division after a difficult start to the season.

Arncliffe started the stronger and several chances in the first 15 minutes should have had them up early.

As early as the first minute Arncliffe's senior statesman Bill Pilovski took the ball upfield and provided a fine cross for Arthur Prentzas which the former Gladesville United star headed over the bar.

In the 22nd minute Pilovski was forced to clear the ball off the line after a Uni raid, but generally the Uni team was slow to start, with their makeshift side of seven regular first graders, supplemented by available Under 21s taking a while to settle down.

They did work their way into the game, though and an Oscar Iturra goal saw them take the lead after about 30 minutes.

Great work between Dax Bykerk and David Borella forced a goalmouth scramble, in which Iturra found success. The score remained that way until the break, but the Uni boys really should have at least doubled their lead by that stage, given their opportunities.

By contrast after a bright start Arncliffe's best chance as the first half drew to a close was when Robert Todorovski fired a shot straight at the keeper, Nick Apoifis, a player the club signed from Stanmore this year and who has been in sparkling touch of late.

Louis Klimovski had crossed smartly from the right in the 40th minute, but his team-mate's header was easy pickings for the 18 year old keeper.

Arncliffe kept their experienced heads together, and created many half chances in the second half, but strong defending by the students continued to foil all of their plans.

Just as the students looked to be regaining control, they went a man down when striker David Borella received his second caution.

Rather than merely defending, the students stayed composed and continued to create chances.

They seemed to be playing well and were duly rewarded when captain Nestor Moreno drove the ball from 25 yards into the top left corner of the goal, after a superb solo run and while the keeper, Bernie Sheary, got a hand to the well struck shot he could not stop it crossing the line.

The home side were then deservedly ahead, but after flame haired workhorse Dax Bykerk had shaken the Scots' crossbar, soon after establishing the two goal lead, the tide turned dramatically.

Clever passing from the visitors saw a gap open in the Uni box, and last week's scorer Con Chrysanthos finished well to hand the visitors a lifeline.

Robert Todorovski did the spade work and laid on the pass from outside the box which saw the other Arncliffe player beat the keeper at the near post in the 75th.

Uni did not look comfortable for the last 15 minutes and when wily old campaigner Pilovski stepped up to take a free kick, he did what the students' feared and levelled the game.

The goal was the second in as many games for the 40 year old Pilovski who normally bows to pressure from a player one year his senior, Zlatko Nastevski, when it comes to these dead ball situations. Nastevski's absence from the last two games has given the former Rockdale and Bankstown City player the chance to remind everyone of his skills and this goal was one of his all time greats.

He line the ball up 22 yards out and from the right of the area curled a right footer off the outside of his boot and into the top left corner if the net.

The 82nd minute goal came after Prentzas had won the ball deep in his own half and made his way to the threshold of the penalty area before being brought down by a defender.Arncliffe then pressed for full points but superb goalkeeping kept the students level.

Todorovksi found himself inside the 6 yard area in the last three minutes, but slipped before he could execute the shot he would have wished and the ball was cleared off the line to safety. With two minutes left, Moreno made another sustained run, but did not get a shot in when he had his chance and the score remained 2-2 at the finish.

The University team will rue their loss of two of the three points they almost had in the bag by giving away yet another two goal lead, but Arncliffe may look at this match and wonder if their top four finish will now eventuate.

The single point they gained does not give them much breathing space, as their nearest rivals, Sydney University have a game in hand against the bottom club and are only a point behind.

NSW Soccer on the web

The NSW Soccer Federation has a new look on the world wide web.

The Federation's 'home ground' is to be found at www.soccernsw.com.au and contains information about the Federation's activities and the competitions.

One of the key features of the site is downloadable Excel spreadsheets for each of the competitions which allows supporters at home (or work) to keep their own up-to-date record of what's happening in their favourite competition - whether it be Super League, 1st Division, 2nd Division, Super Youth League and so fort.

The spreadsheets automatically calculate the table based on the scores for each game, giving both a simple and detailed (for and against) ladder.

Spreadsheet designer, Alan Clark of McRopod Concepts, said that they were designed to be "a bit of fun" as well as providing the official results.

"Keen fans also like to wonder what will happen in various situations. With the spreadsheet, it's possible to save it to your own computer and keep a record of the competition and also play around with it a bit, without interfering with the Federation's official competition record."

Alan, who is a Celtic and South Melbourne supporter, said that the NSW Federation is "way ahead" of any of the other State or national bodies in providing such a service to fans.

One feature not yet developed on the web site is the Clubs' pages. All Clubs were invited to submit material and photos for inclusion on a page but only one has done so to date - Eastern Suburbs. Marketing and Communications Manager, Bonnie Mersiades, said she hopes more Clubs take up the opportunity.

"The two most common questions we get asked through our web site is 'Where is my nearest Club?' and 'How do I get to a particular ground?'

"We'd like to be able to give them the answer and point them to all the details on the web site.

"It's up to Clubs what they want to put on there, but as a minimum, we'd suggest details of the home ground and how to get there, the competition the Club is involved in, Club colours and contact details."

Eastern Suburbs has also included historical background to their club.

If individual clubs have their own web pages or e-mail contacts, these can also be linked from the Club page on the NSW Soccer site which is already attracting a pleasing level of usage from Australia and even overseas.

"Most of the e-mails from overseas are from people who are coming to Australia for one reason or another and want to join a club, or who want more general information on Australian soccer and our players," said Bonnie.

They all get a response. "A web site is one way of communicating with a lot of people at relatively low cost, and as with all communications it's important that there is follow-up. We respond to every e-mail - whether it be about a Coerver coaching clinic, how to get to a ground, a complaint about a semi-final game being called off at the last minute, or where is the nearest club.

"It's also not a static thing. We'll be improving the site continuously to give people a reason to keep wanting to come back, besides the competition results and tables."

Along with the new site, it is also now possible to e-mail most Federation staff directly. For example, Competition Secretary Rod Wood, can be contacted by e-mail at rod@soccernsw.com.au. Inquiries about Coerver coaching can be e-mailed to coerver@soccernsw.com.au , and Super Soccer editor, Mark Fowler, can be reached on mark@soccernsw.com.au

General Manager, Peter Thorne, said the web site is a service to clubs and their fans and he encourages clubs to take up the opportunity to put themselves on the world wide web.

The web site designer was Katrina McKinnon of Webgirl (www.webgirl.com.au) , and the NSW Soccer Federation's Internet Service Provider is Web City (www.webcity.com.au)

If you have any inquiries about the web site of the NSW Soccer Federation's activities, just e-mail the Federation at info@soccernsw.com.au

teenage REVOLUTION

It was almost a total washout in the Youth and Cadet League, with only four games taking place in total. There were no games played at all in the Division One and Two Youth League, nor in the Cadet League Division Two. On Saturday in fact there was just one game played in total, and that was in the Super Youth League.

SUPER YOUTH LEAGUE.

G13

Wollongong, in second place but 20 points behind the leaders Blacktown, traveled to the Sutherland Sharks in the only game that survived the weather. It was the Wolves who came away with the three points as well after a 3-2 win, giving them some breathing space over the teams in third and fourth.

G14

Sutherland moved within a point of their opponents' Wollongong after a 2-1 win, moving level on points with the Newcastle Breakers at the same time.

G15

There was an eight-point gap at the start of play between Sutherland and Wollongong, and the Wolves closed that to five with a comfortable 4-0 win over the Sharks.

G16

Wollongong moved level on points with third placed Newcastle after drawing 0-0 against Sutherland, a result that also sees the Sharks move a point clear of the Southern Districts.

Cadet League Division One

There were three games that took place in the Cadet League Division One, with only the scheduled games at Marconi and St George falling foul of the weather.

G11

Parramatta City picked up their fourth point of the season, and moved level on points with the Bonnyrigg White Eagles, after a 0-0 draw at the Macarthur Rams. There was also a draw at Heffron Park when Eastern Suburbs met the Leichhardt Tigers, a 2-2 result preventing the Tigers from moving level with Marconi Fairfield in fourth place.

There was one game that did provide a result though, Parramatta Eagles defeating Ryde City 3-1 at Melita Stadium.

G12

Parramatta Eagles moved into second spot after a 4-0 victory over Ryde City, a result that sees them just one point behind Sydney United.

Only a point separated Eastern Suburbs and the Leichhardt Tigers going into their game, and only a goal separated the two at the final whistle, the Wanderers getting up 3-2.

The days other game saw a 0-0 draw between the Macarthur Rams and Parramatta City, only Parramatta City's second point of the season.
